Martin ArtQuest® is Nashville’s premier destination for hands-on art experiences. After a complete renovation, the museum’s hands-on art experience, Martin ArtQuest (MAQ), is open to visitors of all ages and abilities. Featuring a range of accessible art-making opportunities—animation, drawing, painting, printmaking, and sculpture—each with high-quality materials and the support of professional educators, MAQ is an entry point for visitors of all ages and abilities to explore art while engaging their creativity and imagination. Accessible stations provide a range of art-making experiences with related educational programs and community outreach activities.
